Community is where you make it

It's in our classrooms and across our campuses. It's online and on the playing fields. It's in Vancouver and Kelowna and countless cities and towns around the world. UBC's community goes back over a hundred years, and connects tens of thousands of students and faculty, and hundreds of thousands of alumni. It's inclusive, inspiring, innovative, and inviting, and we can't wait for you to join us.

Okanagan campus

A welcoming community in a thriving city

UBC Okanagan is located within the territory of the Syilx Okanagan Nation, whose spirit of stewardship is maintained in UBC's respect for sustainability and the land. Life on UBC's Okanagan campus is shaped by its vibrant host city, Kelowna, known for its growing high-tech industry and excellent outdoor recreation opportunities, including hiking, biking, swimming, and skiing. The campus community continues to evolve, anchored by the warmth of the students, faculty, and staff, and inspired by the landscape.

The campus is 20 minutes from Kelowna's city centre and one hour from two world-class ski resorts.

Vancouver campus

An oceanside campus in an urban setting

UBC Vancouver is located on the traditional, ancestral, and unceded territory of the Musqueam people. Nestled on the shores of the Pacific Ocean, the campus is full of innovative learning facilities and a mix of modern and traditional architecture. It's a vibrant starting point to explore academic adventures, beautiful beaches, evergreen forests, diverse cuisines, and engaging arts and culture.

The campus is 30 minutes from Vancouver's city centre and just a short drive to several ski destinations, including Whistler, one of North America's top-rated ski resorts.¹

CLUBS

Pursue an existing passion or nurture a new one in one of UBC's hundreds of student-run clubs and course unions. If the club you have in mind doesn't exist, find a few friends and start it up.

EVENTS

Celebrate global fashion and diversity at Rejoice, an intercultural fashion show, or race in Storm the Wall, one of the most exciting events of the year. No matter your interests, you'll find fun things to do on campus.

STUDENT SUPPORTS

UBC is committed to providing a safe, supportive, and inclusive environment for living and learning. If you have questions or need support related to health, accessibility, safety, career development, and more, there are people and services on both campuses that can help.

CULTURE

Find students from around the world in spaces like the Global Collegium on UBC's Okanagan campus, or the Global Lounge on UBC's Vancouver campus. If you're an Aboriginal student looking to connect with others, visit Aboriginal Programs and Services on UBC's Okanagan campus or the First Nations Longhouse on UBC's Vancouver campus.

ORIENTATIONS

UBC has some of the most engaging orientation events in Canada. No matter where you come from, or whether you plan to live on or off campus, you can join in activities organized by students, faculty, and staff. You'll learn about your academic community, make friends, get to know professors, and dive head first into your UBC adventure.

SPORTS AND RECREATION

Join a recreational team or competitive club, sign up for a fitness or dance class, or don the school colours of blue and gold and cheer on UBC's varsity teams: the Okanagan Heat and the Vancouver Thunderbirds.

CRAIG D.

DUBAI, UAE AND GOA, INDIA
MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

"The more you involve yourself with the community and actively participate, the more you will feel at home here."

Are you part of any UBC communities that have been especially meaningful?

My closest group of friends largely consists of people I met in my first week, at UBC's Jump Start orientation program. This group of friends stands out because they've gone beyond the traditional definition of friends and become almost like family.

What would you say to prospective students who are considering attending UBC?

You truly get out of UBC what you put in. The more you involve yourself with the community and actively participate, the more you will feel at home here.

What big questions did you have before arriving at UBC?

I had never been to North America prior to coming to UBC, so "What's it like?" was a massive question for me. I was excited to travel to somewhere super different compared to where I had grown up.

What do you like about your program?

The community experience is filled with inclusivity and a general willingness of your peers, professors, and teaching assistants to help and to see you succeed.

"Being part of different communities has made UBC feel much smaller and connected."

UBC has over 500 student-run clubs and course unions covering a vast range of interests – everything from quidditch to competitive robotics to a cappella.

Explore your curiosity

At UBC, learning isn't limited to the classroom. Co-operative and community-based learning experiences and academic exchanges are just a few of the ways you can broaden your perspective and gain hands-on experience you will take with you anywhere you go.

SABRINA M.

CANORA, CANADA - PLAINS CREE FIRST NATIONS AND INDIGENOUS STUDIES

"You will learn just as much outside of the classroom as you will in it."

What big questions did you have before arriving at UBC?

I always wondered what it would be like to study in a multicultural setting. I was pleasantly surprised by UBC's wonderful and diverse community that allows me to study among students from all around the world.

What would you say to prospective students who are considering attending UBC?

The people and the community of UBC are unlike anything you'll find anywhere else! You will learn just as much outside of the classroom as you will in it, just from the conversations you'll have with the amazing students around campus.

In your opinion, what makes UBC distinctive from other universities?

Definitely the community. Before coming here, I was worried about feeling disconnected from other students, but I couldn't have been more wrong! Regardless of who you are and what your interests are, there's a place for you at UBC to feel connected - you just have to look for it!

Are you connected with any Collegia on campus?

This past year, UBC opened the Indigenous Collegia on its Vancouver Campus. I love this space and it was a crucial part of my first-year experience. I'm overjoyed that I can become a more active member of this space in my second year as I will be working as a Collegia Advisor.

"The focus and care that UBC puts into its Indigenous students is something I couldn't find matched anywhere else."

UBC Collegia are spaces on campus that provide commuter students with a place to hang out between classes.

Make yourself at home

Where you live can have a huge impact on your university experience. If you like to explore and don't mind commuting to campus, you might prefer off-campus housing. If you want to be closer to your classes and campus services, you may prefer living in residence.

→ you.ubc.ca/applying-ubc/admitted/find-housing

RESIDENCE LIFE

Living in residence makes it easy for students to meet new people, live in an academic atmosphere, get help for personal needs, and be close to all that UBC has to offer. Our campuses in the Okanagan and Vancouver are both well-connected to their host cities and outdoor recreation opportunities by public transit and transportation routes.

LIVING OFF CAMPUS

Many of our students live off campus and commute to class by bike, public transit, or car. Students who choose to live off campus can access our on-campus Collegia, spaces where you can meet with friends, heat up food, and relax between classes.

DARCY B.

TORONTO, CANADA
SOCIOLOGY & GEOGRAPHY

“Living in a first-year residence is a fantastic way to meet new people and create a community on campus.”

Are you part of any communities that have been especially meaningful?

The first-year residences' Pride collectives have been extremely meaningful for me. Over the past two years I've been organizing events for the Pride collectives that have ranged from board game nights to student panels to hikes. Throughout the process I've learned a lot about leadership and support.

How do you like living on campus in a student residence?

Living in a first-year residence is a fantastic way to meet new people and create a community on campus. Keep up with events happening in your residence by checking social media and the posters on your floor - there are almost always things going on and new people to connect with.

What's the best part about living in Vancouver? What do you like to do off campus?

The best part about living in Vancouver is being so close to both nature and the city. I love the ability to go shopping, eat out, see a movie, and go to the beach all in the same afternoon.

SKYLER V.

MANILA, PHILIPPINES
ECONOMICS

“The best part about living off campus is having a bigger space to yourself and being able to decide whether you want to live alone or with a roommate.”

Why did you choose UBC?

Because of its international community. I wanted a university that would help me meet new people with new perspectives, and I think UBC delivered on that.

What makes UBC distinctive from other universities?

Its sense of community. The environment in the classroom and around campus is very positive, making it easy for meaningful connections to be made. The interconnectedness has made UBCO feel more like a home than a university.

What's the best part of living off campus?

The best part about living off campus is having a bigger space to yourself and being able to decide whether you want to live alone or with a roommate. I also appreciate the life experience I've gained from living in an apartment.

Find your focus

UBC students have access to degrees in every major discipline, including innovative offerings in emerging disciplines, interdisciplinary studies, and dual-degree programs. Here are just a few examples.

FIRST-YEAR STUDY OPTIONS

ARTS ONE AND COORDINATED ARTS PROGRAM

Learn from a multidisciplinary team of instructors in a small and supportive cohort. Choose Arts One for a writing-intensive program with a humanities focus, or choose the Coordinated Arts Program to explore subjects in one of five streams (Media Studies; Global Citizens; Individual and Society; Law and Society; or Philosophy, Political Science, and Economics).

LAND ONE

Get hands-on experience in small classes for your core courses through this integrated program for Forestry and Land and Food Systems (Applied Biology; or Food, Nutrition, and Health) students. Land One gives first-year students the opportunity to develop valuable relationships with instructors and peers, while diving into content that is directly connected to current land issues.

SCIENCE ONE AND COORDINATED SCIENCE PROGRAM

Explore scientific questions with a small group of like-minded students using concepts from biology, chemistry, physics, and math. Apply to Science One for a focus on research and independent work, or choose the Coordinated Science Program for supportive group learning and hands-on activities in weekly workshops.

VANTAGE ONE

Earn first-year degree credits while you develop your academic English in a cohort-based, 11-month program that prepares you for a smooth transition to second year.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

DATA SCIENCE

Use statistics and computer science to have an impact on society as a business and data analyst, a data architect, or a statistician.

MEDIA STUDIES

Prepare for a professional career in media by exploring eight arts disciplines and computer science through theory, research, and application.

PHILOSOPHY, POLITICS, AND ECONOMICS

Learn how to analyze the rules that govern us, examine decision-making in an increasingly globalized marketplace, and develop informed opinions about the world we live in.

DUAL-DEGREE PROGRAMS

BACHELOR & MASTER OF MANAGEMENT DUAL DEGREE

Pursue a subject you're passionate about and concurrently earn a postgraduate degree from the UBC Sauder School of Business, one of the world's most prestigious business schools.

SCIENCES PO & UBC DUAL BACHELOR OF ARTS

Study in Canada and France and earn degrees from UBC and France's Sciences Po, a research-intensive university specializing in social sciences and humanities.

How to apply

APPLY TO UBC BY JANUARY 15, 2021

Or by December 1, 2020 to be considered for entrance scholarships (see page 30).

Ready to join the UBC community? It's time to apply. Follow the steps below and you'll be closer to studying at one of the top universities in the world alongside other bright students and expert faculty.

→ you.ubc.ca/applying-ubc/how-to-apply/application

1 CHOOSE YOUR DEGREE AND CAMPUS

When you complete your application, you will have the opportunity to select your first and second choice of degree. The degrees you choose can be in different faculties and on different campuses. You will be evaluated for your second choice only if you are not admitted to your first choice, or if you contact the Admissions Office to request that UBC evaluate your second choice.

2 REVIEW THE REQUIREMENTS

Make sure you meet UBC's general admission requirements and degree-specific requirements, and demonstrate English language competency. See pages 22 to 25 for information on UBC's admission requirements.

3 COMPLETE THE ONLINE APPLICATION

Create or log in to your UBC account to prepare your online application. Be sure to give yourself plenty of time to complete the Personal Profile section – it plays an important role in the university's admission decisions (see page 26). Submit your application and pay the non-refundable fee by January 15, 2021. Certain degrees may require additional fees.

Fee for Canadian citizens and permanent residents: $71.75

Fee for international students who require a study permit: $120.75

How does UBC make admission decisions?

UBC's admission process is competitive and comparative. First, we make sure you meet the university's admission requirements. Are you on track to graduate from high school (or already graduated)? Can you demonstrate a certain level of English? Do you meet the specific requirements for the degree you're applying to? If you meet these admission requirements, we take a closer look at your application.

UBC will consider your grades, your choices of courses, and your experiences beyond academics that you share in your Personal Profile. Specifically, we look at your grades in all Grade 11 (junior-level) and Grade 12 (senior-level) classes, paying special attention to courses that relate to the degree you're applying to. We also look at your courses to see if you pursued all of your academic interests, challenged yourself, and demonstrated knowledge in your chosen area of study.

DEGREE-SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS AND SUBJECT CATEGORIES

Each UBC degree has its own set of requirements for admission, which may vary depending on where you attended high school and which UBC campus you plan to attend. To determine the requirements specific to you and the degree(s) you're applying for, visit you.ubc.ca/applying-ubc/requirements

No matter what degree you apply for, UBC will broadly evaluate your academic history by looking at your grades in all academic Grade 11 (junior-level) and Grade 12 (senior-level) courses. This does not include applied design, skills, and technologies courses; career education courses; physical and health education courses; or faith-based courses, although presenting these courses may be beneficial if related to your intended area of study.

Based on the degree you apply for, UBC will also look at a core assessment of your grades from all academic Grade 11 and Grade 12 courses that fall within related subject categories. If you present a course at both the Grade 11 and Grade 12 level, emphasis is placed on the more senior-level course. The categories are as follows, with a few sample courses for each. For a comprehensive list, visit you.ubc.ca/applying-ubc/requirements

ENGLISH LANGUAGE COMPETENCY

English is the language of instruction at UBC. To study here, you must meet the English Language Admission Standard. The most common ways to meet the English Language Admission Standard are to achieve a minimum score on a recognized English proficiency test – such as the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) or the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) – or to complete four years of schooling and/or achieve certain grades in senior-level academic courses at a recognized English-speaking school.

ENGLISH PROFICIENCY TEST SCORES

If you attend a non-English-speaking school, you can be considered for admission to UBC by achieving a minimum overall CAEL score of 50-70, IELTS score of 5.0-6.5, or TOEFL score of 70-90. For UBC's standard, direct-entry degrees, your score must exceed these ranges. It is recommended that students submit test scores at the time of application if possible.

FIRST-YEAR PATHWAYS

For academically outstanding degree-seeking students whose English proficiency test scores are within the ranges specified in the previous section, UBC offers the following programs:

VANTAGE ONE

Begin your studies immediately in one of three academic streams while simultaneously developing your academic English abilities. After successfully completing this 11-month program, you can transition directly into the second year of your chosen degree. Available to first-year international students only. vantagecollege.ubc.ca

CONDITIONAL ADMISSION PROGRAM

As a conditionally admitted student, you will be accepted into your chosen degree on the condition that you develop your academic English to the required standard through this intensive English program. Available at UBC Vancouver only. you.ubc.ca/conditional-admission-program

ENGLISH FOUNDATION PROGRAM

As a student in the English Foundation Program, you will complete intensive English language training and academic courses while taking part in campus life. Available at UBC Okanagan only. students.ok.ubc.ca/efp

Planning for your degree

It's never too early to start thinking about what you'll study at UBC. Knowing which degrees you're interested in applying to will help you choose your Grade 11 (junior-year) and Grade 12 (senior-year) courses accordingly. Here's a worksheet to help you plan ahead.

DOODLE ZONE

Use this space to brainstorm ideas, take notes, and imagine your future at UBC. Or just draw something cool.

What's your story?

Admission to UBC is competitive. Meeting the minimum general and degree-specific requirements does not necessarily mean you will receive an offer. That's where the Personal Profile section of the online application comes in. It's a chance for you to tell the university what you are most proud of and what you've learned from your experiences, and for the university to determine who receives scholarships.

You can use this worksheet to start thinking about what you'll write in your Personal Profile. Keep in mind that it's more valuable to show the depth of your commitments and responsibilities than the number of activities you've been involved in.

WHAT ARE SOME ACTIVITIES YOU'VE BEEN INVOLVED IN?

Examples include clubs, family or community responsibilities, employment, athletics, and volunteer roles.

HOW WOULD YOUR FAMILY AND FRIENDS DESCRIBE YOU?

What words would they use? How would they describe your character and abilities?

WHAT'S IMPORTANT TO YOU?

What issues do you care about? Which of your activities best reflect your values?

WHO COULD COMMENT ON YOUR ACADEMIC AND NON-ACADEMIC EXPERIENCES?

Think of a couple academic and non-academic referees who know you well.

TIPS FOR CRAFTING YOUR PERSONAL PROFILE

Personal Profile questions require short written responses of 50 to 200 words. Here are three tips to keep in mind:

Take time to reflect

Instead of simply listing your accomplishments and experiences, tell us what you've learned from them.

Be specific

Use details to provide context and elaborate on your answers.

Be true to who you are

Don't focus on what you think we want to hear. Use your own voice and tell us what you want to say.

AUSTIN B.

OLIVER, CANADA – TSIMSHIAN NATION
HUMAN KINETICS

"Don't be afraid to be your true self."

What's the best thing about your program?

The sense of community. Everyone seems to be familiar with each other, including the professors and TAs. Having that sense of community really made me feel comfortable, and like I was a part of something special.

Have you been involved in any research programs?

For the past two years, I participated in the Aboriginal Undergraduate Research Mentorship Program. I worked on a project designed to build Indigenous pathways for diabetes and obesity prevention in six urban and rural communities. The program helped me discover opportunities to pursue potential interests in research, and introduced pathways to graduate study programs that I was not previously aware of.

What would you say to prospective students who are considering attending UBC?

Don't be afraid to be your true self. Set the tone early, and put yourself out there for the amazing opportunities UBC has to offer. Have fun, study hard, and be sure to create as many life-long memories as you possibly can!

What's the best part about living in Kelowna?

The Okanagan lifestyle. Kelowna is home to beautiful scenery and weather. There are plenty of activities to do outside and there are great smaller communities to visit around the city.

"UBCO has done an incredible job supporting and welcoming the Indigenous student population."

UBC attracts over $650 million in research funding from government, industry, and not-for-profit partners around the world.

First-year budget planning

A UBC education is a valuable investment that will pay dividends throughout your life. When you consider the approximate first-year costs, you'll find that UBC's tuition compares favourably with those of other top-ranked universities anywhere in the world.

BUDGETING FOR FIRST YEAR¹

¹ All figures are estimated in Canadian dollars and based on a full first-year course load in the 2020/21 academic year. Living costs cover an eight-month period and are based on a typical student's experience in residence. Goods and services are subject to inflation, which has remained relatively stable at between 1% and 3% in recent years. Tuition fees are reviewed annually by the Board of Governors, in consultation with students. Most UBC bachelor's degrees take four years of full-time study to complete.

Ways to save:

Buy used textbooks

Take advantage of free events and activities

Use your unlimited public transit pass to get around

Use free online video apps to call home

AWARDS FOR CANADIAN STUDENTS

UBC works with prospective students and their families to ensure that no eligible Canadian citizen or permanent resident of Canada is prevented from attending the university for financial reasons alone. With the help of donors, UBC provides more than $43 million annually in scholarships, bursaries, and career development initiatives to outstanding Canadian undergraduate students.

AWARDS FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

Each year, UBC makes available more than $20 million from non-public sources to provide scholarships, awards, research grants, and career development initiatives to outstanding international undergraduate students who demonstrate academic excellence and leadership qualities.

NITHI S.

KODAIKANAL, INDIA
MANAGEMENT

"I learn something new every day from the amazing people around me."

Why did you choose UBC?

Something about it felt like home. I come from a small hill station with lakes, mountains, trees, hiking trails, and beautiful skies. The first picture I saw of the Okanagan campus had all of it. For a 17-year-old girl leaving home for the first time, I thought it would be a perfect fit.

Are you part of any communities that have been especially meaningful?

Being a part of the UBC Student Experience Office as a Jump Start Leader and Peer Mentor is simply amazing. Jump Start is undoubtedly one of the best weeks every year, filled with so much energy, colour, fun and school spirit.

How have these communities impacted your UBC experience so far?

These experiences have definitely made me a much better person. My leadership, communication and decision-making skills have improved immensely. I learn something new every day from the amazing people around me.

What's the best part about living in Kelowna?

The best part about living in Kelowna is the outdoors. The mountains, the trees, the breathtaking views, the lakes. My favourite thing to do off campus is to go for a walk with my friends downtown and watch the sunset on the lake. I also love ice skating in the winter.

"What makes UBC special is the people. It is so diverse, yet you feel at home."

UBC is ranked the #1 most international university in North America.

DOMINIQUE B.

SANTA ANA, USA
ANTHROPOLOGY & LINGUISTICS

“UBC is the perfect combination of growth-inspiring challenges and comforting communities.”

What events or experiences at UBC have been especially meaningful?

I didn't know a single person before coming to UBC, and was nervous that I wouldn't be able to make friends quickly. Jump Start eliminated those worries on day one. Everyone in Jump Start is in the same boat, and eager to make friends and find community.

How have the communities you're part of impacted your UBC experience?

Being a part of communities at UBC has made my experience here more than just school. I've learned so much from my peers, friends, and mentors along my university journey and feel I'm leaving the university as a better scholar, friend, leader, and all-around-person.

What would you say to students who are considering applying to UBC?

UBC is the perfect combination of growth-inspiring challenges and comforting communities. It allows you to have a solid community that consistently inspires you and pushes you to be the best you can be.

SIENNA B.

OLIVER, CANADA
PSYCHOLOGY

“I love the energy in Kelowna and all the different opportunities to meet people.”

How have the communities you're part of impacted your UBC experience?

I've really found my people since coming to UBCO, and gotten a better of understanding of who I am and who I want to become.

You transferred to UBC – what has that experience been like?

Transferring has been a good experience, and I really appreciate all the resources available at UBCO. The supplemental learning sessions, math and science peer tutoring, and academic advising have all made adjusting and being successful a lot easier.

What is it like living off campus?

I like having my own space away from school but still having access to all the resources at school. I love the energy in Kelowna and all the different opportunities to meet people, as well as the beaches and outdoor spaces in the summer.
